

MUNICH INT'L PATENT LAW CONFERENCE 2023

A GREAT SUCCESS

HYBRID CONFERENCE

On 23 June 2023 the Munich International Patent Law Conference 2023 took place as a hybrid event. More than 100 participants from 25 countries followed the event – either online or onsite at Groundlift Studios by Lake Ammersee, near Munich.

Organized by the TUM School of Management's Chair of Intellectual Property and its Friends of IP at TUM, the conference was kindly supported by the EPO's European Patent Academy, the TUM School of Management, the Bavarian State Ministry of Justice, and Regional Court Munich I.

As in previous years, the conference endeavoured to explore one patent law issue from the angles of four jurisdictions and their respective court systems. The conference was opened by organiser Professor Christoph Ann (TUM School of Management) followed by Bavarian State Minister of Justice Georg Eisenreich as well as President of Regional Court Munich I Beatrix Schobel, who delivered greetings.

This year's conference topic being "(Anti-)anti-suit injunctions in patent infringement cases", participants and speakers explored whether and under which circumstances jurisdictions offer anti-suit injunctions and what reaction they admit, if an ASI is issued against one party. Patent judges Anna-Lena Klein from Germany, Sir Christopher Floyd from the UK, James L. Robart from the U.S., and Dieter Brändle from Switzerland elaborated on relevant rules and principles in their respective jurisdictions.

Munich patent litigators Thomas Mayer and Stefan Eck had prepared two case studies, that prior to the conference were distributed to all participants and following their presentations were discussed with the judges; highlighting similarities and also differences between national jurisdictions.

Organizers, supporters, and guests look back on an exciting and thought-provoking day by Lake Ammersee and will remember the Munich Int'l Patent Law Conference 2023 as yet another success.
