

The Government of Malaysia and Humanitarian Affairs Asia is looking for 10 Outstanding Student Leaders to attend the 10th University Scholars Leadership Symposium 2019 in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia from August 1 to 7.

We are looking for Student Leaders with the following qualities:

1. Student Leaders who are passionate about social change.
2. Student Leaders who are an active global citizen.
3. Student Leaders who are well-versed in current affairs and appreciate cultural diversity.

The 10th USLS will be our largest gathering of like-minded Young Leaders from more than 100 countries. The electrifying atmosphere at the USLS will ignite your passion for humanity, drive you to step out of your comfort zone, and set your heart on greater causes beyond self-preservation. It will challenge you to live a life as a servant leader with passion, persistence, patience and purpose. More importantly, it will kindle the flame of humanity deep within you.

For more information about this unique global opportunity and the registration fee, please send your enquiries to our Global Partnership Associate, Mr. Alexi Heazle at alexi.heazle@humanitarianaffairs.org or visit our website at www.universityscholars.org.uk. To apply, please send an updated CV and recent ID photo to the above email.

A short video documentary of the 9th University Scholars Leadership Symposium, held in the United Nations Conference Centre in Bangkok last year, is available for viewing through the following link (<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=parlOvytPas>).

All delegates of the 10th USLS will receive 'one credit hour' provided by our academic partner, the University of Kuala Lumpur. Each delegate will receive a full academic transcript of the lectures, workshops and experiential learning activities participated during the week-long symposium for transfer to a domestic degree program.

Students who apply by the priority deadline will receive best consideration for admission to the 10th USLS.

Priority Deadline ends on June 30th, 2019
